Connor Hughes and dad Ryan meet Santa Claus

RESIDENTS from eight weeks to eighty years old joined in the fun at the Hilltop Christmas Pantry Fayre which raised a grand profit of £900 for hall funds.

Lettie Hart and Louise Richardson, who organised the event, said they're very pleased at how well the day went and that it had been a great team effort.

'Thank you to everyone who brought home made pastries, cakes, preserves and other festive food to the hall— including Sue Morgan who was apparently baking until 2.00am!—we really appreciated all your efforts,' said Louise. 'Thanks, also, to all the people who came along and bought it all!'

A large number of people were involved in the preparations and running of the event and deserve huge thanks. They are: Tracey

CHRIS Ives said: 'Hold the front page! There are some VIPs we have to mention in this issue of Hilltop News.'

These people, he said, do one of the most important jobs in the community, yet are rarely recognised for what they do. He is of course talking about the volunteers who come into the hall on a regular basis to clean and clear up after the rest of us. They are: David and Tracey Smith, Mick Hopkins and Brendan Troope, Betty Wallis and Christine Bates, Hilary Smith and Margaret Maple, Joan and Andy Cross and last, but by no means least, Cheryl Ives with a little help from Chris.

On behalf of everyone, a big, big thank you!
