All events are in St Faith's hall

Now that I'm older (but refuse to grow up), here's what I've discovered:

- I started out with nothing, and I still have most of it
- My wild oats have turned into prunes and All Bran
- I finally got my head together; now my body is falling apart
- Funny, I don't remember being absent minded. . .
- All reports are in; life is officially unfair
- If all is not lost, where is it?
- It is easier to get older than it is to get wiser
- Funny, I don't remember being absent minded. . .
- Some days you're the dog; some days you're the hydrant
- I wish the buck stopped here; I sure could use a few. . .
- Kids in the back seat cause accidents
- Accidents in the back seat cause kids
- Funny, I don't remember being absent minded. . .
- It's hard to make a comeback when you haven't been anywhere
- The only time the world beats a path to your door is when you're in the bathroom
- If God wanted me to touch my toes, he would have put them on my knees
- When I'm finally holding all the cards, why does everyone else decide to play chess?
- Funny, I don't remember being absent minded. . .
- It's not hard to meet expenses. . . they're everywhere
- The only difference between a rut and a grave is the depth
- These days, I spend a lot of time thinking about the hereafter. . .
- I go somewhere to get something and then wonder what I'm here after
- Funny, I don't remember being. . . er. . . absent minded

Get well soon, Becky

TWELVE year-old Rebecca Hart, from New House Lane, is recovering at home after an emergency operation on her eye. It will be a few days before Becky will be able to go back to school. But don't worry, Becky, apparently your teachers are saving up all your homework assignments for when you get back! Friday evenings at the hall aren't the same without you — get well soon.
